Teaching Empowered Women How To Unleash Her Inner Warrior

Sensei, Speaker, Mentor, Coach, Best Selling Author & Media Host of Choices 4 Women

PRESENTATION TOPIC: Letting Go

The world needs more successful women in business.

Women in business owe it to themselves to release the negative emotions surrounding past experiences that are keeping them from reaching their success goals.

When a woman is affected by past events, people and experiences, it can leave her feeling powerless, depleted or with low self-worth.

There has never been a better time for women to make their mark on society, to shatter the illusion of the glass ceiling and to stop playing by someone else's rules

From her own personal journey and her years as a student, competitor and Sensei in the Martial Arts, Nancy created the Mastering Your Beliefs program that is the basis of her coaching, speaking, podcast and books to empower women and help them witness and manifest their own vision.

Rave Reviews:

"When Nancy gets up to speak in front of women, her soul speaks, not her mind but her soul. She opens her mouth and beauty comes out because it is her soul speaking her life's purpose and people can feel it." ~ Becky C

"Nancy is a dynamic public speaker and her passion for helping others shows in everything she does."
~ Melissa A.

"I truly was so impressed by you. You were very respectful of my direct requests for your topic and content. You did everything I asked of you. Your energy was high. You were professional. You were interactive with the audience. Your content was of value and you kept to your time allotted. ~ Kelly G.
